Just as the Russians on the Galician front have torn a big gap in the German lines by the capture of Halicz and are pressing on towards Lemberg, the Galician capital, the Germans have started a menacing offensive near the Belgian coast.

This was taken as an indication to bend back the British line and reach the city of Dunkirk about seventeen miles distant.

The Germans succeeded in leveling the defenses by a heavy gun fire of 24 hours and attacking over the devastated territory.

The defenses on the Yser were destroyed by the heavy fire and over this a penetration of 600 yards on a front of 1400 yards was effected, the Germans penetrating as far as the east bank of the Yser near the North Sea.

The attacks were commenced at daybreak and were continued throughout the day until midnight. Reports from London say that the battle in Belgium was resumed at dawn.

In the capture of Halicz the Russians took 2000 prisoners and 31 guns. The Russian advisers say that they are pursuing the fleeing Austro-German forces.

On the French front attacks were made near Fleury but they were ejected from the trench which they occupied for a time.

The Boston and Maine has ordered know-nothing stops for all trains before reaching railroad crossings at Windham, Rochester, South Lawrence and other stations.
Conductors will hereafter be required to make out reports of all damage made on passenger coaches by the movement of express and baggage trucks at stations along the lines.

DRAFT DATE IS NOT YET FIXED

Exemption Boards Have Not Yet Completed Serial Numbering of Lists.

Washington, July 11.—(Herald.) Gen. Enoch Crowder, who is the provost marshal general in charge of the draft army machinery, said tonight that no date had been fixed for the draft. It was impossible yet to definitely fix the date, he said, because the exemption boards have not completed the serial numbering of the registration lists in their respective local districts.

The statement has been unofficially made that the draft will take place next Saturday. General Crowder said that that is more guess work, as nobody knows whether the numbering of the registration lists will be finished by that time. It is hoped that such will be the case, but so far only half the states have reported themselves as completely organized and ready for the draft.

The draft will probably be ordered within 24 hours after the provost marshal general has been officially notified that the last local exemption board has completed the proper numbering of its registration lists.

There are nearly 5000 local registration districts in the country, with an exemption board for each district. The smallest number registered in any one district is about 185 persons. The largest number registered in any one district is about 5000. The second largest district has about 5000 registrants.

For the reason the unusually large district which contains 5000 registrants will be subdivided into several districts to fit in with the plan of drafting.

Secretary Baker and Provost Marshal General Crowder are still refusing to divulge the method of determining the order in which the men in the various districts will be drafted and liable for service. But they have now completed the plan, although a number of changes were the result of a dress rehearsal on Sunday of the plan for picking the numbers which will determine the order of liability of men to serve under the draft.

About 1000 numbers were picked to ascertain how the system would work. There has been one important change decided upon and that is that there will be no nation-wide key numbers. All the numbers to be picked will be drawn at Washington. This has been definitely determined. But instead of picking a set of numbers that will fit corresponding numbers in each of the 5000 local districts, it is the plan to pick key numbers for different groups of districts on account of the varying size of the districts in number of registrants.

NAVY STATION SEEKS AVIATION RECRUITS

Men for the aviation corps are to be taken at the local navy recruiting office and Thursday afternoon Percy B. Shepler of Exeter called at the office and offered his services for that department. Plans were made to give him an examination for the position he seeks. He is nearly six feet tall. J. S. Roby who has been at the local navy recruiting office for some time past, has been relieved of duty here for a time and is now painting signs in connection with recruiting work. "Billy" Shepler, the lightweight champion of the navy, is now stationed in his place at the local office temporarily.

Two applicants called at the local office Tuesday and one of them was accepted and sent to Boston for duty. The successful one was Abraham Davis of Ashland, who enlisted as a seaman.

ATTENDANCE SURPASSING EXPECTATIONS

Attendance at the coming demonstrations throughout the state is surpassing all expectations of the state Public Safety Food committee, under whose direction thirty-one trained demonstrators are holding meetings in every community of New Hampshire. Five thousand, five hundred and thirty-seven women attended the first series of demonstrations—one hundred and twenty-four in number—according to detailed reports received by the state committee.

In every community the demonstrators are finding interest intense. Each meeting consists of a practical demonstration in the course of which vegetables and fruits are prepared and canned according to the best and the newest methods known to science. The audiences range in number from 20 to 200 and invariably the demonstrators are kept at her post for an hour or more after the meeting, answering a flood of questions propounded by women who want to be sure of every detail of the process shown.

In most places it is indicated that attendance at further demonstrations in the series will be even greater. Since there are thirty-one demonstrators in the employ of the state committee and each has an average of 33 meetings to conduct in the six weeks that the campaign will continue, it can readily be seen that the total attendance at the entire series will reach a remarkable figure.

The plan for each demonstration is to place all possible emphasis on the conservation of fruits and vegetables that are most easily grown or obtained in New Hampshire. Rhubarb and asparagus have been among the leaders of the past week. Beans and peas will figure in the demonstrations chiefly, along with blueberries among the fruits.

In the cities with large mill populations special arrangements are being made so that women who work in the mills may have an opportunity to attend evening demonstrations. In some places an interpreter will be present to help out with those who do not understand English. It is the plan of chairman Hurdley N. Spaulding of the state committee to adopt all available means that will help to bring the doctrine of conservation to all the people.

"The Five Tires"

Today—tires cost less than ever

Your tires actually cost you less per mile today than they did a few years ago.

—provided you buy the right kind of tires.

In the first place, don't buy a nondescript tire that some dealer has a selfish price motive in selling to you.

Buy a tire with a name behind it—a tire, the quality of which must be so good that the reputation of a great Company is protected.

United States Tires, with the name of the largest rubber manufacturer in the world behind them, are safe tires to buy.

United States Tires are constructed under an exclusive time-tried vulcanizing process that is patented.

They are honestly built with the best materials that the markets of the world afford.

NORTH KITTERY

North Kittery, July 11.—Owing to the prevailing weather conditions the law party of the people's society took the form of a social and was held inside the Fernald schoolhouse. About one hundred people from North Kittery were in attendance. Miss Marion Lewis rendered several patriotic selections in a most pleasing manner and was obliged to respond to several eulogies. Games were played throughout the evening and a more ideal social gathering cannot be conceived. Financially the affair was a success and the committee appreciate the response to their efforts.

The work of the building committee of the People's society is rapidly progressing and the committee is receiving hearty response in their requests. Assurances of the people's co-operation has already been made and more are offering their services every day. Mr. George Woodward has returned to his home in Rochester, Mass., after spending a very pleasant vacation with Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Brooks of North Kittery.

The Proper Remedy.

A New York man believing publicity to be the remedy for crime, particularly of the grosser sort, writes to a newspaper regarding the Ruth Cruger case, with which the country is familiar. All newspaper readers are in possession of the details of the fiendish murder of this New York high school girl by a foreigner who later fled to his native country, where he has been arrested and has confessed the crime.

The writer calls attention to the fact that this crime is only one of a large number not less outrageous which are committed every year in New York and other large cities, while the rural districts make almost as bad a record in proportion to population. Not all revolting crimes are confined to the cities by any means.

It is true, as this writer says, that in such cases it is not enough to condemn and punish the police for any laxness on their part. He says the chief trouble is that the people of the cities are too indifferent to the conditions existing. When there is committed such a crime as the murder of Ruth Cruger there is a howl of indignation and wrath, but the flurry soon blows over and the citizens settle back into their easy indifference to civic conditions which are a disgrace to civilization, according to the view of this New York observer, which is all too correct. There is too much hysteria and too little standing to the rack until such cases are carried through to the end and cleaned up as they ought to be.

But there will not be general agreement with this New Yorker's idea that great publicity of details is the remedy for this condition of things. It is proper that the facts in connection with grave crimes should be made known, and they are. The newspapers may be trusted to do their part in this field. The trouble is that with the newspapers, as with practically everybody else, the commotion is too hysterical. These matters are exploited so long as they are valuable as news and are then dropped to make way for later sensations.

Where the newspapers fail is not in giving sufficient publicity to crime, but in not following the cases through to the bitter end and voicing criticism where criticism is due. What is needed is more criticism of the way in which too many serious crimes are handled. All know that in these later years it takes from one to three years to convict a murderer. Appeal follows appeal and trial follows trial until the public is wearied with the slow processes of the law and the technicalities that are so successfully resorted to for the protection of the guilty.

What is needed, as this paper has so often said, is a sweeping away of technicalities and a more prompt and vigorous enforcement of the law, which is too often converted into a mockery by commutations and pardons. It is these things to which the press should give its attention. Not more of the details of crime, but more criticism of the dilatory and slipshod methods of dealing with crime is what this country needs, and when this need is supplied there will, it is safe to believe, be fewer Ruth Cruger cases to deal with.

There are some who favor government life insurance for the soldiers as a means of getting rid of the "wasteful" pension system. But why should the pension system be wasteful? And if it is, why should not the waste and the implied dishonesty and trickery be eliminated? One great trouble in this country today is the tendency to correct the imperfect working of any law by replacing it with a new law. And if it is a mighty poor policy.

The board of health is to be commended for its efforts to prevent the spread of glanders, one of the worst of all animal diseases, and one from which the human family is not immune. Yet this is no reason why horses should be compelled to suffer from thirst, and the action of the board in providing means by which horses may be watered at the public fountains without endangering others is both sensible and humane.

The American soldiers in France are drawing nearer to the fighting lines and those in this country are daily nearing the date of embarkation. The United States is headed for the front.

According to accounts, some of the Paris shop girls did their best to Hobsonize the American soldiers when they marched through the streets of the French capital.

New Hampshire made a better showing in its contribution to the Red Cross than it did in recruiting. But that can also be said of many other states.

It is reported that the wheat crop of Kansas will exceed that of last year by 2,000,000 bushels. No better news could come from the "bleeding" state.

Just at present the voice of China is not in harmony with the world movement for democracy.

DELIVERIES TO BE ELIMINATED

Retail Merchants Also to Do Away With Taking Back Goods.

Washington, July 11.—More than 100 of the country's leading retail merchants met here today and decided to follow suggestions of the Commercial Economy Board of the Council of National Defense for elimination of general deliveries. They voted also to do away with the privilege of returning goods as recommended by the board. The meeting was called by the National Drygoods association, but dealers in many lines other than drygoods were present.

Retail merchants, it was brought out, expect the military draft to make heavy brains on their packing and delivery departments. Whenever members of these staffs are drafted, it was said today, merchants as a patriotic action will not hire men from other industries to fill their places but will continue to operate with reduced staffs. Merchants in many towns already are following the recommendations of the Economy board.

COMPLAINS OF TREATMENT OF RECRUITS

The following communication which is of local interest appeared in the Boston Journal on Wednesday morning:

To the Editor of the Journal:

Lord Northcliffe, one of the men in civil life that is saving England in this war, invites us to profit by their mistakes and frankly says that one of their great mistakes was of not letting the people know the truth.

Much can be done to save the lives of our young men that have enlisted and at the same time make them more efficient and induce others to enlist.

The experience of 11 of our boys from this vicinity who enlisted in our navy in April will illustrate:

When they arrived at Newport they were clothed in their winter clothing, they were vaccinated for smallpox and inoculated for typhoid and dressed in light white duck summer suits with light undershirts without sleeves; they were not furnished overcoats and were refused permission to retain their civilian coats, and were not allowed to provide themselves even with undershirts but were told that they would take just what was furnished them and nothing more.

The natural result followed; six cases of pneumonia and two of pneumonia and measles, and with the inadequate treatment given them within eight weeks from the day they left home, four of the young men were sent home—dead.

The names of the dead are Frank E. West, Sumner, Me.; Clarence Blaise, Hartford, Me.; Harold Ellingwood, Bucklefield, Me., and Carl Marston, Hartford, Me.

My son, Alanson R. Cummings was one of the two survivors, and the care and treatment given him is no doubt the same that any one would receive.

On arriving at Portsmouth from New York, R. L. was ordered to the hospital with a fever, the ambulance came and took one lead and did not return, so he was left in the hammock that night in a more or less delirious condition, either from the effects of medicine or the fever; the next morning he was sent to the hospital where he remained two days and until ten p. m. the following night, when he was discovered to be breaking out with the measles, and at that hour he was cold, wet, and when he was removed to a common canvas tent without even a tent stove where he was left alone two nights.

May 18 he was reported fit for duty. This date corresponds approximately to the day he was sent from the tent to the convalescent hospital, a distance of about 20 miles. He reached the bed but the walk was the full third of his strength.

The next day he was ordered to work in the gallery, but everything grew dark and he was obliged to crawl from the sink to keep from falling. Of course he was then excused, as the Negroes in charge of the dishwashing said she didn't think much of them sending sick men there to work.

During the period of convalescence sufficient clothing was not allowed to keep them comfortable, and if one obtained additional clothing and it was discovered he was obliged to remove it.

One man obtained a suit of union underwear and when it was discovered he was ordered to tear it up for polishing clothes.

Sometimes the food was scant in quantity, poor in quality and poorly cooked.

If the sick in our penal institutions were treated in this way our officers would be brought before the court and removed.

If the farmer cared for his stock in this way he would be promptly and properly fined, and if he persisted he would be jailed.

What are the sensations of the young volunteer who finds himself turned over to authorities that enforce such conditions as these and what is the effect on the parents of the community?

RED, WHITE, AND BLUE BOOK

If You Own a Liberty Bond You Should Read It

The Red, White and Blue Book, "How the War Came to America," has been issued by the Committee on Public Information at Washington. It is of special interest to holders of Liberty Bonds, as they are assisting in financing the war. It is a document that all students of this country's affairs should read.

Its contents are 23 pages of introductory historical matter, with the address of President Wilson to the senate on January 22, 1917, and his address to the joint session of the houses of congress on April 2 announcing the severance of diplomatic relations with Germany and asking that a state of war between the United States and Germany be recognized.

The traditional policy of the United States, always strictly adhered to in abstaining from entangling alliances and participation in European controversies is set out ably, with citations of incidents and documents in proof. The position of the United States in the summer of 1914 is summarized as follows:

"1. The Monroe doctrine.—We had pledged ourselves to defend the New World from European aggression, and we had by word and deed made it clear that we would not interfere in the European dispute.

"2. The freedom of the seas.—In every naval conference our influence had been given in support of the principle that sea law to be just and worthy of general respect must be based on the consent of the governed.

"3. Arbitration.—As we had secured peace at home by referring interstate disputes to a federal tribunal, we urged a similar settlement of international controversies. Our ideal was a permanent world court. We had already signed arbitration treaties not only with great powers which might conceivably attack us, but even more freely with weaker neighbors in order to show our good faith in recognizing the equality of all nations both great and small.

"The attitude of this country toward Germany and the other nations at war is evidenced by the President's proclamation of neutrality and its reception by the people. Questions which arose between the Entente allies and the United States involved only property and property rights and were covered by arbitration treaties. Questions that arose between the Entente allies and this country involved irreparable loss of life, and through their refusal to make arbitration treaties were not subject to compulsory arbitration.

The course of the Imperial German government in this country and in Mexico and other countries of this hemisphere, its deceit, secret machinations and overt acts of hostility are reviewed and the patience and the forbearance of the President and the American government demonstrated.

The pamphlet summarizes the events leading to the entrance of the United States into the war with Germany. The exact condition of affairs at the time of the delivery of the President's war message is set out and the President and the nation justified by the recital of facts not known to all.

"The revolution in Russia, it is said, made the course of the United States much plainer and converted the whole conflict into a real struggle that the 'world must be made safe for democracy.'

MORE PASSENGER TRAINMEN ON JOB THAN BEFORE CUT

B. & M. Head Says Extra Summer Service Offsets Curtailment.

A conference yesterday between President Hustis of the Boston and Maine railroad and the Boston public safety committee, relative to the labor situation caused by the recent cut in the road's passenger schedule, brought out the fact that although 25 per cent of its passenger trainmen have been taken off, the company is employing more men in its passenger service than before the cut was made.

President Hustis explained in detail the purpose of the curtailment in passenger service, and showed that it has not resulted in laying off a single employee. "These cuts in service," he said, "were made at the request of the federal authorities and were necessary for several reasons.

"First, to save locomotives. There are not enough locomotives in the country to handle the war freight efficiently, to move troops, munitions and food without serious delay, even if the railroads reduce the number of locomotives under repair, as they have been requested to do by the war board. They must draw all they can from their passenger service to keep the freight in motion.

"Second, to save fuel. The railroads are teaching their men to use steam more economically and to increase the mileage per locomotive, but they are obliged to take trains off as well, to help conserve the coal against the coming winter.

"Third, to clear the tracks for the freight and troop trains. A single passenger train from Troy, N. Y., to Boston in the week ending May 20, caused the side-tracking of 39 freight trains for a total period of 45 hours and 45 minutes. Such passenger trains as this have been taken off for the sake of speeding up freight trains that may be carrying steel for ships, coal for munition plants, or food for the allies.

Answering questions concerning the labor condition caused by the curtailment of passenger train service, Mr. Hustis said that the summer service which recently went into effect helped to alleviate the surplus of train operatives.

"The road has taken off 253 weekday trains out of a total number of 1,057," said Mr. Hustis. This change, however, was arranged to take place at the same time as the summer trains were put on. The result was that the extra summer trains offset the removal and the road is now using more men than before."

New Site for Aviation

The navy department has secured an excellent site for a new aviation station and submarine base on Puget Sound in a tract of land fronting on Port Angeles Harbor, Wash., which and which has been transferred by an executive order recently signed by the President from the department of agriculture to the navy department. It is expected that the transfer which is temporary, will later be made permanent by an act of congress.

The tract is a part of a lighthouse reservation on Ediz Hook Spit, and lies between the Strait of San Juan de Fuca and Port Angeles Harbor.

More Prisoners.

A detachment of eight prisoners from New York arrived today for the naval prison.

The patrol officer, Capt. Alwater, who has charge of the Hegees for boatmen on the river, is anxious that the men coming under this new law should present themselves at the navy yard as soon as possible.

Back From the South.

Chief Boatswain William Juraschka returned today from the south where he was sent in command of a detachment from the local training camp.

Former Secretary Aide to Rush.

Truman H. Newberry, Secretary of the Navy, in President Roosevelt's cabinet, has been assigned to duty at the Boston navy yard as senior aide to Captain William R. Rush, commandant of the yard and of the first naval district, and assigned yesterday for duty. While the resumption of a person of such prominence to a position like this is somewhat unusual, the duties will not be new to Mr. Newberry, for he served on the U. S. S. Yosemite during the Spanish war and was at the Cuban blockade.

He organized the Michigan Naval Brigade, serving as landsman, and through the various grades up to commander. He served as lieutenant, junior grade, in the regular navy, during the Spanish war. He was graduated from Yale in 1885 and in 1910 received the honorary degree of A. M. He was Assistant Secretary of the Navy in President Roosevelt's cabinet from 1905 to 1908, and upon the retirement of Victor H. McGehee, as secretary, Mr. Newberry was appointed to the office.

Greeted Old Friends.

Dr. L. H. Wheeler, formerly attached to the naval hospital at Portsmouth, now on duty on the U. S. S. Mayflower, greeted several old acquaintances at the station on Tuesday.

BISHOP GUERTIN IS HONORED

Tenth Anniversary as Bishop and 25th as a Priest in This State.

Priests from every section of the state were present at St. Joseph's Cathedral, Manchester, on Tuesday on the occasion of the tenth anniversary of the elevation of Rt. Rev. George A. Guertin to the bishopric of the diocese of Manchester. The celebration also marked the 25th year of his priesthood in New Hampshire.

Previous to the mass service, which the bishop himself celebrated, the Catholic church bells tolled throughout the city for a half hour.

Bishop Guertin is the third bishop of Manchester. He was consecrated in 1907, shortly after the death of Bishop John B. Delaney. Bishop Delaney succeeded Rt. Rev. Dennis M. Bradley, the first bishop of the diocese, and his death followed during the second year of his bishopric.

Following the mass, the bishop and the priests of the diocese made a renewal of clerical promises and dinner was served later at St. Joseph's Boys' home.

"Solemn pontifical mass was sung at 10 o'clock. The bishop was the celebrant, assisted by the following of honor: Assistant priest, Very Rev. Thomas O'Leary, V. G., P. R., of St. John's church, Concord; deacons of honor, Rev. Joseph Chevalier, P. R., of St. Augustine's church, Manchester, and Rev. Matthew Creamer of St. Patrick's church, Nashua; deacon of the mass, Rev. James H. Riley of Newmarket; sub-deacon of mass, Rev. J. J. Richard of St. Francis Xavier church, Nashua; master of ceremonies, Rev. J. S. Buckley, D. C. L., rector of the cathedral. Among the attending altar boys were many graduates of St. Joseph's high school. Within the sanctuary were seated over 100 priests from all parts of the state, practically the entire diocese of Manchester.

At the close of the mass, the bishop reviewed the joys of his early priesthood as well as his episcopal life. He then urged the priests to renew their clerical vows after him, after which the ceremony of the kissing of the bishop's ring took place. The ceremonies closed with a general chorus of the "Magnificat" under the direction of Rev. F. X. Lyons.

Rt. Rev. George Albert Guertin, D. D., was born at Nashua, Feb. 17, 1865, the son of George and Louise (LeFebvre) Guertin. He was educated in the parochial schools of his native city. He early showed a zeal for the priesthood and left at an early age for the Seminary of St. Charles Borromeo, of Sherbrooke, P. Q., and finished his training for the priesthood at St. Hyacinthe's seminary. He was ordained at Nashua, Dec. 17, 1892, by Bishop Bradley. He was appointed as a curate in one of the Nashua parishes, after which he went to St. Augustine's church of Lebanon.

He was appointed pastor of St. Anthony's church, Manchester. At the death of Bishop Delaney, he was appointed to fill that office and was consecrated on March 10, 1917. Mgr. Dionede Falconio performed the ceremonies of consecration, assisted by Mgr. Matthew Harkins, bishop of Providence, R. I., and Mgr. John Tierney.

The 10th anniversary of Bishop Guertin's consecration occurred on March 19 last, and the anniversary of his 25th year of ordination. Tuesday, however, was chosen as a favorable time for the joint observance of both events.

COAL FREIGHT RATES DROP

Freight rates on coal have dropped considerably during the last few weeks, something which is being hailed by the vessel charterers who are beginning to haul hard sledding to make both ends meet. Yesterday the rate from Hampton Roads to Boston was $2.50 per ton, from Philadelphia to Boston about the same figure, and from New York, $2. The drop represents a difference of $3 per ton on coal shipped from New York to Boston, as the wheel freight rate, when coal was retailing at $10 per ton, was in the vicinity of $5.

Mrs. Thomas Leckey of Sagamore avenue was admitted to the Portsmouth hospital on Tuesday where she underwent an operation today. Her many friends hope for full and speedy recovery.

AMERICA NOT BACKING MEXICO

Pending Break With Germany Not Based on United States Advice.

Washington, July 11.—Reports that Mexico is about to break with Germany led to the authoritative statement yesterday that any such move would not be based on advice given by the American government.

It was stated that no suggestion of an active endorsement of the position of the United States has gone to Mexico City from Washington except the general note addressed to all neutral governments upon the rupture of relations with Germany in March. It was made clear, furthermore, that while the American government would welcome a friendlier attitude by Mexico, many high officials believe that best interests of most of the nations concerned would be served if the southern republic maintains neutrality in the world war.

Ambassador Fletcher, who came here to report in detail to Secretary Lansing on conditions in Mexico, has told the state department that despite some improvement in Mexican affairs generally, much remains to cause concern to the American government. This circumstance is considered important because a break with Germany would give Mexico an opportunity to get money and place the United States under certain obligations.

Those officials who have not been eager to see Mexico join in the war, do not object to seeing General Carranza supplied with money, but they believe that without contributing much real aid to the allies, Mexico would make it hard for the United States, France, Great Britain and other nations with grievances against her to assume a stern attitude after the war. That Mexico might not by that time have straightened out her troubles is admitted as a possibility, and it might be awkward to take the proper steps regarding a recent ally.

Yesterday was the operative date of General Carranza's new schedule of export taxes on crude oil and its derivatives on which the British fleet largely depends for fuel.

It is not believed by American officials that any serious crippling of the oil industry or supply will result. Any fear that the Mexican government might physically take possession of the wells is offset by the fact that Manuel Palaez, one of the revolutionary leaders, still is in possession of the greater part of the field. Palaez and the oil operators have worked in harmony.

Late reports to the state department have served to allay the alarm prevalent at one time that German machinations in Mexico might prove embarrassing. Although there are 16 wireless plants in Mexico, American officials are convinced that none is being used and that none can be used for transmitting news to Germany or to her correspondents.

AMERICA TO HER ALLIES

By Theodosia Garrison of the Vigilante
Send my men in kiaki
Vith singing on their lips—
Vith engineers and artisans,
Vith captains and their ships;
But yet another sending
Shall greet your lifted glance,
When the eagles of America
Are on the wing to France.

Vith fierce, white eagles,
They shall gather in their might,
A hundred and in thousands
They shall circle for the fight
Vith wings that bear the lightning,
Vith eyes that pierce the night.

Vith soldiers and my sailors
Shall prove their wrath and will,
Vith engineers and artisans
Shall serve you of their skill;
But yet a greater service
The four winds shall advance,
When the eagles of America
Are on the wing to France.

Vith fierce, white eagles—
They shall gather for the feast,
Like a swift cloud of judgment
They shall turn them to the East,
And God shall steel their talons
For rending of the beast.

"Clean Up" Jerome,
Arizona.

Jerome, Arizona, July 11.—"The reign of the Industrial Workers of the World in Jerome is at an end," said Mayor J. J. Cain yesterday and he stood in the railroad yard and watched two cattle cars loaded with men disappear in the distance. There were 67 men in the cars, all reputed to be members of the Industrial Workers of the World, and 60 armed citizens accompanied them to see that they did not come back.

Deportation of the men came after a "drive" yesterday in which hundreds of miners and other citizens, all armed, participated with the object of cleaning up the town. All the men were considered by Jerome city officials to be "undesirable" because of a strike called by the Industrial Workers of the World, which was repudiated by the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers. Many men had heard of the "drive" and left Jerome early in the morning.

After the men were placed in the cattle cars they were given plenty of drinking water but nothing to eat. As the train pulled out, several shouted at the citizens, "We'll come back."

FOOTBALL STAR SAVES GIRL FROM DROWNING

Several thousand people on Revere Beach Tuesday night witnessed the thrilling rescue of Miss Florence Watson, aged 19 years, by Charles Brickley, the former Harvard football player. William H. Brown, a life guard, and Thomas Foley of East Boston, aided by two unknown boys in a small skiff.

While several hundred feet from the shore Miss Watson was seized with a cramp and the life guard attempted to rescue her. The young woman pulled the guard down. Brickley and Foley, both in street attire, jumped into the water to help him.

The united efforts of the three men failing to keep Miss Watson above water, Brickley swam to the shore, got a life preserver and succeeded in placing it about the young woman. Others on the beach launched a skiff which was rowed out by two boys. Miss Watson was unconscious when put into the skiff and brought ashore, but doctors said she would recover. The three men were able to swim ashore but were almost exhausted.

FIVE-YEAR OLD LAD DROWNS IN RIVER

Thomas Westgate, Son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Westgate, Fell from Littlefield's Wharf While Fishing Yesterday Afternoon

Thomas Westgate, the five year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Westgate of New Vaughan street, was drowned Tuesday afternoon in the Piscataqua river after falling off Littlefield's lumber wharf from which he had been fishing in company of a companion of the same age. Efforts to rescue the little chap were fruitless and it was not until several hours later that the body was found on the bank of the river further up the stream. Life had been extinct for several hours, and it is supposed that death resulted immediately after he fell into the water.

According to the story told by the little chap with the drowned boy they had been lying on the wharf fishing for some time. Shortly after 2:00 o'clock he heard a splash and saw the little Westgate boy's body disappearing in the water. He called for help and several men nearby rushed to the wharf. He said that the body rose to the surface and floated out into the middle of the stream before again sinking from view.

The police department was notified and Deputy Chief Ducker with officers Mulholland and Smart were early on the scene. Curtis J. Layton, an employee of the Boston and Maine in the local freight office made several attempts to recover the body diving repeatedly until forced to give up from exhaustion.

The river in the neighborhood of the wharf was dragged by men with grapples from boats for several hours under the direction of the police and although the fishing line used by the little chap was brought to the surface no other trace of the child was located. The work of dragging the river bottom was continued, however, until nearly 6:00 o'clock when it was reported to them that the body had been located on the river bank further up the stream.

The body was discovered by Mrs. Belle Tilley of Jackson Hill street, in the east grass, high and dry when the receding tide had left it in the rear of the residence of John Woods at the corner of Jackson Hill street and Dearborn place. The police were notified and Dr. E. H. Eastman, in the absence of Medical Referee Pender, viewed the remains. The body was later transferred to the home of the parents.

This is the second drowning from this wharf within a year, another young lad having lost his life last summer while swimming with several other boys.

The drowned lad was a bright little chap and was a favorite among his playmates. Besides his parents he is survived by two brothers and a sister.

Governor Considers Calling Out of the State Troops.

Concord, July 11.—In speaking of the activities incident to the calling of New Hampshire units into federal service, Governor Keyes said last night:

"It will take some time to gather the men who are to be called into federal service, and I cannot help but feel that they will be far better taken care of in local quarters than they would be in larger concentration camps. It seems to me that the natural place to assemble the New Hampshire troops would be in the state camp grounds at East Concord."

"While I do not know officially what plans the government has already been called to mobilize in Portsmouth, I am now awaiting orders regarding the further movements of New Hampshire troops."

PINK AND WHITE VOILE.

The organdy and voile combination is a favorite for hot weather frocks this summer. The voile of this one is a pink and white stripe and the plain white organdy is used for belt, collar and cuffs, pocket tops and scalloped hem. The dress is made with a blouse which falls over the skirt, in front, leaving the organdy belt at sides, and back. The collar is shaped to the neck, and gives the broad-shouldered outline that is desired this season.

RUSSIANS CAPTURE KEY TO LEMBERG

(By Associated Press)

London, July 11.—Halicz, the key to Lemberg, which is the Capitol of Galicia and one of the important points held by the Austro-Germans has been captured by the Russian forces according to a dispatch received here late last night from Reuter's Petrograd correspondent.

RUSSIAN DRIVE CONTINUES

(By Associated Press)

The Russian army has broken through the Austro-German Halicz-Stanislau line and the Russian forces continue their advance into the heart of Galicia in their drive for Lemberg. The Austro-German forces have retired in haste before General Korotki's men on a wide front to a depth of ten miles from Stanislau to the Lomnica river, opening up the way to Lemberg along two railroads. The Russians during the day captured four more villages and took more than 1000 prisoners and seven field guns.

West of Stanislau the Russians penetrated the enemy lines to a depth of seven miles and between Stanislau and Brzezany they have widened their wedge, according to official statements of the war office. That the Austro-German troops retired hastily is shown by the large amount of guns and military stores which fell into the hands of the advancing Russians.

In their retirement the Austro-Germans failed to make a stand at two rivers, the Lomnica and the Lurka and it is supposed that they will in-

French on the west bank of the Lomnica.

Russian artillery is pounding at the enemy lines south of Brzezany and north of the Preper marshes.

On the western front in the Chemin-des-Dames section in Champagne, the French continue to throw back the attacks of the German Crown Prince who is showing far less aggressiveness in the past few days, the latter attacks being made in far less numbers than in the past.

The artillery duels are being fought between the British and Germans in Flanders and the Germans are throwing tons of shells against the Belgian forces in Flanders on the French border. The British have advanced their lines east of Costaverne.

Germany must not now declare for any terms of peace according to Dr. Bethmann-Hollweg, German Imperial Chancellor, in a statement to the Reichstag but "must fight and conquer." The political situation in Berlin is becoming acute according to the Berlin newspapers and although some his post at least one Berlin paper announces that the Chancellor will retain his post. The cabinet will retain its position at the invitation of the Kaiser.

NAVY YARD JUMPS UP IN TIE FOR SECOND PLACE

That the Navy Yard Sunset League team has a chance of winning the pennant in its first season in the league was proved last evening when by defeating the Knights of Columbus 3 to 2, they jumped into the triple tie for second place, incidentally pulling the Knights out of the tie and putting them down into the tie for the cellar position. They had more or less luck in their game and for a few minutes in the last season things looked pretty dark for the victors. Their runs were easily made through misplays on the part of their opponents and in the last half of the fifth their own errors came close to allowing the Knights to even things up.

The game was interesting to watch although four errors were charged against each team. Neither team did any consistent hitting and Moore with a triple to right center was the only man to hit for extra bases.

A beautiful peg by Porter in the fifth from left field to the plate cutting down Wilkinson as he attempted to score was the feature play of the game for a few seconds delay or a less perfect throw would have cost the sailors the game.

The Game.

1st inning (Navy Yard)—Peterson singled with a drive to left and advanced second when Moore was thrown out at first by Thomas. Hickman at third fumbled and threw bad on Thompson's grounder allowing Peterson to score and the batter to reach second. Gregory was thrown out at first by Thomas. Thompson going third. Porter was safe on Hickman's misplay of his grounder taking second on the bad throw. Thompson scoring. Casteele booted. Trudelle's grounder, Porter going third. Trudelle stole. McPherson fanned. One hit, three errors, two runs.

(K. of C.)—Hickman hit to Mike and was thrown out. Bailey singled to left, and stole. Casteele flied to Trudelle. Kilmer flied out to Porter. One hit, no errors, no runs.

2d inning (Navy Yard)—Light was out at first on a grounder. Sarrotta, unassisted, Mike and Peterson both flied out to Kilmer in left. No hits, no errors, no runs.

(K. of C.)—Thomas hit over short for a clean single and was advanced second on a perfect sacrifice bunt by Hickman. Light to Moore. Sarrotta flied to Porter in left. Wilkinson fanned. One hit, no errors, no runs.

3d inning (Navy Yard)—Moore hit to right center for three bases. Thompson sent out a sacrifice fly to Kennelley in center. Moore scoring from third. Gregory grounded out to Sarrotta. Porter flied to Kennelley. One hit, no errors, one run.

(K. of C.)—Kennelley was out at first on a pretty play by Peterson of his grounder. Hickman flied to Porter. Bailey was thrown out at first by Mike. No hits, no errors, no runs.

4th inning (Navy Yard)—Trudelle out at first. Casteele to Bailey. McPherson fanned. Light walked and went second when Hickman threw to the outfield to prevent his stealing. Mike was out on a foul fly. Hickman at third. No hits, one error, no runs.

(K. of C.)—McPherson allowed Casteele to reach first by dropping his fly to center. He stole. Kilmer hit to Peterson whose throw to Trudelle nailed Casteele at third. Kilmer stole. Thomas flied to Peterson. Hickman was fanned. No hits, one error, no runs.

5th inning (Navy Yard)—Thomas threw out Peterson at first on a high bouncer. Moore walked. Thompson out at first on a grounder. Discoli to Bailey. Gregory was out when Thomas made a fine play of his hard drive. No hits, no errors, no runs.

(K. of C.)—Sarrotta was safe when Trudelle booted his grounder and reached second when Gregory dropped the throw from Trudelle after Wilkinson had hit to the latter, both runners being safe. Kennelley fanned. Hickman walked hitting the bases. Bailey singled to left scoring. Sarrotta, but Porter's perfect peg to the plate cut down Wilkinson as he attempted to score on the same play. Trudelle made another misplay of Casteele's grounder allowing Hickman to tally and Bailey went third. Casteele stole. Kilmer ended the game by a hit to Trudelle and being thrown out at first. One hit, three errors, two runs.

WAS ON BOARD TORPEDOED DUTCH SHIP

After passing through about every kind of experience it is possible for the modern sailor to encounter, two of them from Holland, after a short stay in this country will leave here again in a few days to return to their native country. Harmon Canalinga, 32, a fireman, and Art Holtermann, 20, seaman, both natives of Holland, arrived at the Portsmouth police station Tuesday afternoon in an exhausted condition from exposure and long tramps through the woods and over the roads. The younger man was far worse off than his elder companion but neither were in condition to continue their journey to Boston where they hope to secure stations on a ship returning to Holland.

Canalinga, who speaks excellent English, in an interview told of a ship on which he was serving being torpedoed by a German submarine and of his ultimate escape with other members of the crew after several days drifting on the seas in an open boat. Arriving a month or more ago in New York on a Dutch steamer the two men signed contracts with an American concern as fireman and deckhand on a Great Lake's steamer. In company with others they were started north but instead of landing on board a steamer they were shifted to the woods as woodsmen. The work was too heavy for Holtermann and after some time the two decided to desert their work and make for a seaport.

For days they have been tramping through the woods and across country in the attempt to reach Boston or New York. They were allowed to remain at the police station for the night and will leave this morning for Boston where they hope to obtain work on a steamer returning to Holland.

An Unusual Situation

German armies just holding on while the Navy finishes the war—Hindenburg's own explanation of the situation—is something novel in German military history.

SOCIALISTS ENDORSE ANTI-DRAFT

Chicago, July 10.—The anti-war and anti-draft policy of the Socialist party, as outlined in resolutions adopted at the St. Louis convention, have been endorsed by the party's rank and file, according to complete returns today from the referendum taken. The returns, according to Mrs. Bertha Brown, assistant secretary of the party, show that the majority report, adopted at the convention, is backed by a "huge majority." A minority report was presented to the convention, but the referendum was taken "on the resolutions which were adopted. The referendum was on the adoption of the two reports."

Socialist party officials here declare they have no information as to possible resignations of members of the party.

"I read in the papers a statement by Alfie Benson (Socialist party candidate for President in the last election), saying that he would resign from the party if the resolutions were upheld," said Mrs. Brown, "but I don't believe he will resign."

Mrs. Brown said she wouldn't resign. Commenting on the resignations of J. D. Phelps Stokes and his wife, Rose Phelps Stokes, from the party, Mrs. Brown said:

"They never were very much with the party. They were sort of independent."

Manchester, July 10.—When Philip DeFreve, a cigar maker, returned home from his work this evening he discovered the lifeless bodies of his wife, aged 27, and two daughters, aged three and one respectively, in a gas-filled room of the house. The fat was still turned on. It is believed by the police that the woman committed suicide.

On the floor beside the body of the dead woman a note addressed to her husband asked "that her babies be buried by her side." DeFreve declared that he knew of no motive for the suicide.

with inquiries from export merchants and manufacturers who appear to be alarmed over President Wilson's embargo proclamation. He has been asked hundreds of questions not covered in his instructions, and as a result has compiled a list of the inquiries which he will forward to Washington for the consideration of Secretary Redfield of the department of commerce.

Clark today warned shippers to be prepared for the wholesale commandeering of vessels by the government, and advised them to protect themselves in future contracts. The new embargo order affects manufacture of exports as well as the exporters themselves.

In turning down the offer of the manufacturers the two unions' councils advised the continuance of negotiations.

WHAT JAPAN HAS DONE IN THE WAR

An interesting expression of opinion from the Anglo-Japanese press is as follows: "Some critics profess to believe that Japan has not done her part by the Entente Allies," says the Japan Advertiser. "Those familiar with the facts take a radically different view and marvel that Japan has done so much, not so little, to further the aims of the anti-German coalition. Imagine Japan on the side of Germany in this quarrel. What would that have meant? Easily the loss of India, Hongkong, Australia and New Zealand to Great Britain, the effective strangling of Russia through the blockade of Vladivostok, and the obstruction of the United States from active participation in the war through fear of Japan. The Pacific, since an American declaration of war on Germany might have synchronized with the capture of the Philippines and Hawaii, Russian apprehension of a Japanese seizure of Vladivostok and even of the Amur province as a whole would then have been very far from chimerical. The Japanese fleet could have swept Eastern shipping from Far Eastern waters and demolished Entente trade in Far Eastern markets. If Japan is to be commended for far-sighted statesmanship which counseled her present policy, she is equally to be lauded for the sagacity, if not magnanimity which has induced her to refrain from embarrassing Great Britain at such a time with insistent demands for repeal of the anti-Japanese legislation that disfigures the Australian statute book, and generally for evidence of a determination to do everything she can reasonably be expected to do to promote the Entente cause."

American readers will remember that the editor of the Advertiser is an American, and that no vengeful newspaper has taken so laudatory a view of Japan's co-operation—which speaks highly for the modesty of the native press.—From East and West News.

WORLD'S MOST POPULAR ACTOR.

Many Authorities Give the Palm to Eddie Polo, Universal Star.
If you were asked to name the world's best known and most popular motion picture actor, who would be your choice? If the matter were left to universal suffrage, according to many motion picture authorities, the honor would go to Eddie Polo, the star appearing in the new Universal serial, "The Gray Ghost."

Eddie Polo is well enough known to American, but there are other actors as well known as he in this country. It's when you come to the other countries of the world that Polo's popularity leaps predominantly into the lead. Even in Japan, China, India and South Africa he is a hero, while Europe has known and admired him for long. His intrepidity and physical prowess appeal to everyone.

Since he was two years old, Polo has been performing breath-taking stunts in public. He was born in Italy, and started his training almost in the cradle. At the age of two he could walk on his hands, and at seven he was an accomplished acrobat and high-diver. For seventeen years he was with the biggest circuses in the world, as diver, acrobat, animal trainer and acrobat. He astonished Paris by dropping from a moving airplane which was circling the Eiffel Tower, depending on a parachute to break the thousand foot fall. He claims to be the only person who ever caught a fellow performer after a triple somersault in the air. He holds a record of 235 feet in underwater swimming, and has performed such little stunts as an eighty-foot dive into the ocean off the bow of a swiftly moving steamer, for the camera. He is a splendid horseman, and a formidable fighter and wrestler, and one of the best all-round athletes in the film. He keeps himself in perfect physical condition all the time, and has recently become interested in Jiu-Jitsu, or Japanese wrestling. WAITERS ALL TO RETURN TO WORK TODAY

(By Associated Press)
Boston, July 10.—The strike of the waiters in twelve of the leading hotels here today which nearly tied up the hostesses crowded to overflowing by members of the Elks visiting here in attendance of the annual convention was declared virtually settled tonight when the union leaders stated that none of the twelve managers had agreed to accede to the strikers' demands by recognizing the union and allowing one day off in seven. The leaders stated that the remaining three would agree to the union demands tomorrow.

The strike was declared off as the nine houses agreeing to the demands employed fully 90 per cent of the striking waiters.

Several of the houses were obliged to close during the noon hour while others managed to serve their guests by means of volunteer services of prominent Elks waiting on "visiting brothers," allowing guests to help themselves and through the services of bell boys and chamber maids.

IT TAKES AN EXPERT to do good electrical work. There is too much at stake to entrust it to a bungler. We have been called to do lots of jobs over that should have been given to us in the first place.

IT COSTS MONEY to have work done twice, so if you don't believe in throwing it away let us do your electrical work. You won't have to do it over after us, we will warrant. And we won't charge you expert prices either, even if we do belong to that class.

THE HERALD HEARS

That four young men took a trip down on Little Harbor road on last Sunday evening and the trip was the end of a perfect day and part of the night.

That they started in with a vocal serenade for some lady friends along the banks of the Sagamore.

That while the harmony was fine somebody apparently did not appreciate the good music.

That in the midst of the concert in the forest the police got a hurried call to the woodland.

That the four were making a good getaway together until a shot from a police gun rang out among the pines.

That they began to scatter and flew in all directions while the female chorus continued the singing of a Perfect Day.

That one took to a boat on the river bank which had no oars and was as tight as a sieve.

That he pushed off into the stream only to sink in the mud and water.

That another who did the marathon near Belle Isle says he didn't mind the dog so much, but when a horse joined the dog, he thought sure his friends would have the opportunity to contribute 19 white roses.

That there was one of the party who had read the safety first slogan and he climbed a tall pine and anchored on a limb.

That there he remained until the birds began to welcome the daylight.

That it was three in the morning when he dropped down on the earth again and beat it for home.

That the fourth is still nursing a few abrasions caused by a collision with a tree.

That no more trips to the Sagamore are on the schedule until each has a life insurance policy in his possession.

That the Portsmouth postoffice is now delivering nearly 1600 special delivery letters each month.

That no small amount of such mail arrives on Sunday.

That some people are puzzled over the reason for crying at June weddings.

That a careful observation will show that most of the tears come from June brides of other years.

That some of the prophets on the duration of the war should be taxed on expert knowledge.

That a resident of Deer street who takes great pride in her garden says her labor goes for the benefit of thieves.

That they take pleasure in removing her handsome plants by night.

That if they have patience to wait for a while she will see that they are supplied with flowers later.

That the lower end of Market street needs the service of the street sweeper badly.

That the story told by two Dutch subjects at the police station on Tuesday certainly brought out much sympathy.

That it's about time for the shark scare at some seacoast resort.

That the board of public works will meet tonight.

That Friday, July 13, will cause some people worry.

That this old earth can have no more calamity than at present.

That Curtis Layton and Edward McMullin, B. & M. employees, did some work in diving on Tuesday in their attempt to pick up the body of the boy drowned off the wharf of the Littlefield Lumber Company.

That they went down in over 20

BOATMEN CONFUSED

Government Will Not Hold
Up Their Work But Each
Must Have License at Once.

A number of fishermen and other boatmen on the river have been more or less confused regarding the rule requiring them to take out a license granted by the navy yard patrol officer. They feared that they would be held up from doing business after making application for a license until such license arrived.

Capt. Atwater, patrol officer, said today: "There is no intention of holding the boatmen up, but they must give the matter of license their immediate attention. We will give each of them a reasonable amount of time but the sooner they comply with the rules the better. There has been a lot of delay in the matter on the part of the boatmen and the only object the government has is to see that each and every one is photographed and licensed as soon as possible."

LEAVES ESTATE TO HUSBAND

The will of the late Mrs. Annie E. Rand of this city, proved in the probate court held at Exeter on Tuesday gives all of her property, about $10,500 in trust to Hon. William B. Marvin of this city, the income to benefit her husband, John A. Rand, for life.

Several bequests to relatives and friends take effect at his death, as may bequests of $1000 to Portsmouth's North church and $500 to the City's Home for Indigent Women, the income to provide them "little extras". The size of the estate however, makes the payment of the public bequests doubtful.
